Global Oil and Gas Technology Workshop

DATE & VENUE

September 15 - 16, 2014

Houston Marriott Energy Corridor, 16011 Katy Freeway, Houston, TX

ABOUT THE SEMINAR

On September 16, 2014, EWI will host its inaugural Global Oil and Gas Technology Workshop. The first event of its kind for the oil and gas industry, this workshop will bring together technical leaders for in-depth discussions surrounding the current oil and gas manufacturing challenges.

Data from an EWI-developed, industry-wide survey of technical challenges in exploration and production (E&P) will be compiled to prompt discussion at this workshop. Additional featured topics will include challenges related to arctic E&P and the changing landscape in conducting engineering critical assessment. Each session will begin with an introductory presentation by an industry leader followed by a moderated 40-45 minute group discussion on the topic at-hand.

The workshop will open with a cocktail reception on Monday, September 15. We hope you will join us at 5 pm to network with oil and gas industry experts, leaders and peers.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

The goal of the Global Oil and Gas Workshop is to bring together leaders across the oil and gas industry in an open forum in which they may network, share insights and challenges, and develop a prioritized list of technical gaps. Membership to EWI or the EWI STC Oil & Gas is not required.

REGISTRATION, FEES & LODGING

Prior to the event please complete the Exploration and Production Technology Survey. To register online for the seminar, visit ewi.org/events.

EWI STC Oil & Gas members: No Cost
