EWI members get the exclusive opportunity to discuss any technical issue, problem, or goal with an EWI engineer through direct inquiries. Tapping into our team’s expertise early in your process can save your company thousands of dollars per year.

71% of surveyed members cite access to technical expertise as the biggest advantage of partnering with EWI.

83% state that our associates’ expertise and competence are the reasons they are likely to recommend EWI.

EWI members have access to 100+ engineers with extensive experience in materials, design, processes, methods, and advanced technologies used in the manufacturing industry. Our technical team is prepared to help you at any stage of development:

- Basic Research
- Proof of concept
- Process system testing
- Process or prototype verified and tested
- Process or system designed, completed, and deployed

Here’s what EWI members have to say about their experience:

—Project Engineer, NASA

“We use EWI as an extension of what we have, we get the answers that we are looking for, and there is good follow up as well.”
—Lab Supervisor, consumer goods company

“There are times when my skill set at my organization is not duplicated, so no one is here to check my math. There are times when I have to know things that are outside of my discipline. I am able to interact with experts from EWI to get both the knowledge I might not have and also have someone check my math with things that are in my wheelhouse.”
—Director of Materials, Processing, and Integration, aerospace company

“I get a quick response and they are very receptive.”
—Advanced Manufacturing Engineer, automotive parts supplier

“We like to take advantage of their technical expertise in areas where we don’t have the information we’d like to have. We use them as consultants.”
—Welding R&D Manager, heavy manufacturing company

With EWI membership, you and your entire staff can make an unlimited number of technical inquiries of EWI’s engineering staff throughout the year!
